WomenSafe, Inc.
Annual Report for Fiscal Year 2019
July 1, 2018 - June 30, 2019
A day in the life...

Never did I imagine that I would have the opportunity to enter my 15th year at an organization that I have literally grown to know and love as my second home. I tell my coworkers, “I was just supposed to build the building and leave, but just watch, you get your butt in a seat and you’ll love it”. This is an enormously rewarding career, and I consider myself incredibly lucky. I landed in a field that is a great fit and one I am passionate about. I love the people I work with, and together, we can impact our community. Being the director of this amazing organization is life-defining, unbelievably rewarding, exhausting, but yes, worth it.

Funding this outstanding organization is a continuous concern for our leadership team and our amazing volunteer Board of Trustees. To offset ever-fluctuating federal and state funds, WomenSafe opened The Resale Shoppe, located in Chesterland. It is hard to believe that in eight years the Resale Shoppe has seen three expansions! Truly a success story in its own right. Volunteers, donors and truly dedicated staff make the store an amazing experience. The store is beautiful and the items are one of a kind. With grants requiring match dollars, the Resale Shoppe is how WomenSafe can support the requirement. When it comes to your local tax dollars at work, we see the investment that the Geauga County Board of Mental Health and Recovery Services and the Lake County ADAMHS Board has made in the only certified domestic violence program serving Lake and Geauga County residents.

It’s not just about changing and furthermore saving lives, it’s also about working with an amazing community who often remain the unsung heroes to our daily successes and critical to our everyday survival.

The business community has been very responsive in support of victims of domestic violence, and financially support the mission of WomenSafe. We look up the road to MarBal who visits every spring to unload mulch, flowers, and the work crew to deliver a beautiful landscape in an eight-hour day. ABB then pays a visit to make sure the office and shelter spaces are beautified. We know that spring officially arrives when we see Aqua Doc pull in to service the pond in front of WomenSafe. This has been a donated service for the past 11 years, and our pond is a tranquil space for ducks (and yes, snakes) to return to every year.

What I think is really important is also realizing that nobody’s perfect. We are an organization that takes pride in learning all the time and also learning that there is always an opportunity for growth. I show you a picture of my messy desk for several reasons... 1. Work doesn’t stop. 2. There is always more to do. 3. My job isn’t to keep it clean, it’s to continue to serve survivors and donors who fill my desk with love and compassion.

Survivors need us to keep fighting the good fight and keep making a mess, to get into the weeds and hopefully come out better in the end. WE GOT THIS…BUT WE NEED YOU!

Thank you,

Andrea R. Gutta

Over 3,000 domestic violence charges were made across these three counties last year.

There were five fatalities.

Our Mission

WomenSafe’s mission is to provide emergency shelter and support services to survivors of domestic violence throughout Northeast Ohio.

“Handle with Care”
A poem about domestic violence from a WomenSafe client

I am a misfit,
I belong in the dark,
Away from the people,
Who know who they are.

I go to the darkness,
But out came a light,
The light spoke to me,
And told me this much.

Blessed are the misfits,
The worried and scared,
The artists and singers,
The crazed and prepared.

With this knowledge I knew,
Who I was and will be…
I will move on,
Happy to be me.

Making an Impact

In FY2019, WomenSafe provided:

189 survivors, 118 adults and 71 children resided in shelter at the Green House. The average length of stay per shelter resident was 34 nights.

2241 transports, taking clients to goal-related destinations like work, job interviews, school, and doctor appointments. Over 40,000 miles were traveled in the past year.

259 survivors received court advocacy services, providing education on the legal process and helping survivors obtain immediate and long-term legal protections.

90 families were supported during the holiday season through our Adopt-A-Family program.

37 parents participated in our Empowered Parenting Program, working with specialists for a total of 261 hours.

2955 students participated in our Heathy Relationships Program, providing vital tools & resources to help students understand and avoid the cycle of domestic violence.
When Jenna and her children first stayed at WomenSafe in 2017, it was very overwhelming. After several calls and promises that the abuse would stop, Jenna returned to her abuser, just a short week after entering the shelter. She hoped she could make her relationship work and knew that at the very least, if she returned, her and her children would have a home and food to eat. Unfortunately, the abuse worsened, and two years later, she called WomenSafe from the hospital after being brutally beaten by her boyfriend. Jenna returned to shelter motivated to create a better life for herself and her children.

Her children moved in with her sister so Jenna could focus on her sobriety and breaking the cycle of violence. She arrived at WomenSafe with only a small backpack and gratefully accepted clothes, shoes, hygiene items and food from the Donations Coordinator. Jenna was open to all the services WomenSafe had to offer. Jenna enrolled herself in an intensive outpatient program and began attending meetings to conquer her addiction. WomenSafe provided daily transportation to all of her appointments. She was determined to improve her relationship with her children and enrolled in WomenSafe’s Empowered Parenting Program. Jenna started attending counseling and art therapy groups and began exploring art to heal from her abuse. She requested EMDR treatments and reported that they were very helpful in processing her feelings. Jenna applied to several housing programs and created a functional budget with guidance from the Housing Coordinator.

As time went on, Jenna began to understand that she was not to blame for the abusive relationship. She began to regain her confidence and strong wit, two things she was known for before her relationship started. She contacted the Court Advocate, and through guidance and consultations decided to prosecute her abuser. She continued working with WomenSafe staff and successfully graduated from the Empowered Parenting Program, becoming closer to her children throughout the process. Jenna achieved her five month sobriety chip and was so excited to celebrate with her new family at WomenSafe, both staff and fellow clients alike. Later that month, she received word that she was accepted into a transitional living facility and began the bittersweet process of moving. Although she was excited to live on her own, she would miss the encouraging staff and supportive friends she made during her time at WomenSafe. The Donations Coordinator supplied Jenna with items she would need for her new living space and assisted with the move. Now, Jenna is continuing to thrive and create a life free of violence. She maintains regular visits with her children and continues to save money for their future home together.
“I thought I was prepared for any curveball life could throw my way, but never imagined I would become disabled, homeless and raising a child alone. Four years went by struggling in a hostile environment, but I thought having a roof over our heads was the best thing for my daughter, even though we were miserable. The hostility grew and I was faced with the choice a mother shouldn’t have to make - stay and have shelter despite the abuse or leave and be homeless. The situation was so bad, my daughter was begging to leave and live in the car. Luckily, there were two open beds when I came in person in tears. Christmas was less than a week away when we arrived, but my daughter was happier than I had seen her in years....Thank you for everything.”

- excerpt from a letter written by a former WomenSafe shelter resident

“I am writing to thank WomenSafe for the presentation given at Auburn Career Center last Friday. My 16 year-old daughter is in what I consider an abusive relationship. She texted me directly after the presentation and told me about it. She said she talked to the presenter and is considering calling for some counseling... it helped so much to hear an outsider talk about the signs of abuse and to make her realize she is not alone.
I want you to know your program got through to someone and that it is important information for girls this age to have.
Thank you so much.”

- excerpt from a letter from a mother whose daughter benefited from our Healthy Relationship Program
Volunteers Make the Difference

Whether coordinating fundraisers, providing clerical assistance, organizing donations, working as on-call advocates, assisting with mailings, or helping to maintain our facilities, WomenSafe volunteers and their generous gift of time are the key to the agency’s success.

Spotlight on Nancy Temple: An Unsung Hero of WomenSafe

Nancy Temple has volunteered countless hours to help shape WomenSafe, Inc. into the organization that it is today. She began in 1982, helping with fundraising and assisting families to safety. In 1983, Nancy became the chair of the Development Committee for the Board of WomenSafe, Inc. and was instrumental in the development of fundraising events that are still hosted today. Nancy also worked towards the establishment of the Green House domestic violence shelter, which opened its doors in 2007.

That year, Nancy began Friends of WomenSafe, an independent non-profit whose sole mission is to generate unrestricted funds for WomenSafe, Inc. Over the next 11 years, this organization contributed a grand total of $394,860 to help WomenSafe, Inc. provide shelter and support services to survivors of domestic violence.

Although this past year marked Nancy’s “retirement” as President of Friends of WomenSafe, survivors will continue to benefit from her many contributions for years to come.

Thank you, Nancy, for over 35 years of dedicated service to saving and improving the lives of domestic violence survivors.

The Fall Luncheon

A change of location brought a breath of fresh air to this beautiful annual fundraiser. Over 250 guests enjoyed lunch, auction items, prizes, a shop-for-a-cause vendor area, and a fashion show featuring premier local boutiques who loved showing off their blossoming styles! The event, titled “Imagine YOU In Full Bloom,” also had a special presentation honoring Roe Green, a local philanthropist and advocate, for her generosity to both WomenSafe and the greater Cleveland area.

Thanks to donors, sponsors, volunteers, and attendees, the event raised over $17,000 to support WomenSafe’s efforts.
Casino Night

WomenSafe’s largest annual fundraiser, Casino Night remains a huge success, raising over $45,000. The annual event, in its 18th year, includes a night of casino gaming managed by professional dealers, a silent auction, lucky number auction, wine pull, open bar, sit-down dinner, and, of course, countless laughs. Thanks to everybody who donated, volunteered and came out for the fun event.

Golf Outing

WomenSafe’s fifth annual golf outing was so enjoyable! Thanks to all the teams and sponsors that came out to Beechmont Country Club on June 24, 2019. Although the day started with a rainy forecast, the storms held off and allowed over $14,000 to be raised to support survivors!

Thank you to our Annual Partner, Leading Lady, for their incredible support of each of these events, and more!
